Commentary

Equities

- December saw major market averages rise to cap off an exceptionally strong year
- Large-cap stocks were again the best relative performers with growth stocks continuing to outperform value for the year
- Developed international stocks rallied in the month and finished the year with double-digit gains

Economic

- The economy is growing but at a slower pace with 3rd quarter GDP showing a revised 2.3% annual growth rate
- The economy is expected to continue to grow at an above average pace in 2022
- The new COVID variant and uncertainty on the President's economic agenda may lead to increased volatility
- Headline inflation reached a 6.8% increase from a year ago, well above the Fed's target

Fixed Income

- At its December meeting, the Fed signaled a further reduction in its bond buying program and indicated up to three rate hikes could occur in 2022
- Bond prices fell slightly during the month as rates inched higher
- High-yield bonds provided positive returns for 2021

Strategic Outlook

- Neutrally positioned on equities, while favoring international over domestic for long-term returns
- Finding value in select domestic equities while trimming outsized growth exposure
- Maintaining shorter-duration fixed income structure as low-yield environment continues
